

University of Massachusetts Amherst College of Natural Sciences

Department of Natural Resources Conservation Spring 2010 Seminar Series

Seminars are 12:20 to 1:10 on Fridays in Holdsworth 305 unless noted otherwise.

12-Feb	Katie Friday	USDA Forest Service	Mangroves, Sediments, and Water: Impacts of Urban Development and Global Change
19-Feb	Raymond Bradley	University of Massachusetts	Natural Archives, Changing Climates
26-Feb	Jon Goguen	University of Massachusetts, Medical School	Plague and Other Wildlife Diseases Readily Transmitted to Humans: Biology, Ecology, and Safety
5-Mar	J.B. Friday	University of Hawai'i	Restoring Native Acacia koa Forests in Hawai'i
12-Mar	Linda Deegan	Marine Biological Laboratory	Trouble on the Edge: Coastal Ecosystems in Times of Change
26-Mar	Katharine Sims	Amherst College	Payments for Ecosystem Services in Mexico: Socioeconomic and Environmental Impacts
2-Apr	Hui-Yu Wang	University of Massachusetts	Life History Variation of Fishes: Formation and Implications for Fisheries Management
9-Apr	Scott Jackson	University of Massachusetts	Assessing and Mitigating the Impacts of Road-Stream Crossings on Aquatic Organism Passage
16-Apr	Liba Pejchar	Colorado State University	Avian Frugivores, Seed Dispersal and Habitat Restoration: Case Studies from Hawai'i
23-Apr	Pauline Peters	Harvard University	"Our Daughters Inherit Our Land and Our Sons Use Their Wives' Fields": Matrilineal-Matrilocal Land Tenure, and the New Land Policy in Malawi
27-Apr*	Nalini Nadkarni	Evergreen State College	Between Earth and Sky: Our Intimate Connection With Trees

* Tuesday, 27-Apr, 7:30 PM at Bowker Auditorium

For additional information, contact Brett Butler
(bbutler@nrc.umass.edu; 413-545-1387)

UMassAmherst